

FIRST READINGS LECTURE

Past & Present

Wednesday, October 3, 2012

5:00 pm, Salomon Center for Teaching, Main Green

Free and open to the public. Information: (401) 863-2676

Sons of Providence: The Brown Brothers, the Slave Trade, and the American Revolution

Author Charles Rappleye will discuss what he learned while writing the book, how it changed his thinking about Brown University and early New England, and what it means to be an American, then and now.

Sponsored by the Office of the Dean of the College and the Center for the Study of Slavery and Justice

BROWN